

THE DAILY NEWS.

JORDAN STONE, Managing Editor.
SAM'L T. WILLIAMS, Political Editor.

SUNDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1873.

It is not the Charlotte Democrat, but the Charlotte Observer that is so fond of mean puns.

In the BAZAINE trial in France, some damaging disclosures are being made against the Ex-Marshall.

The report of the Carlist victory yesterday, proves to be unfounded. The Republicans won the fight.

THIERS, it is said, will advocate the continuance of McMahon as President of France in the present crisis—in order to create dissensions among the monarchists.

In Memphis, children and parents are abandoning each other, according to to-day's telegrams. A private letter to a gentleman in Raleigh from Memphis says: "Our once busy streets are now but the avenues to mourning and death."

PROF. KIMBERLY has written an encouraging letter to the Editor of the Asheville Citizen, in behalf of the "Citizens Home Agricultural Society and Stock Exhibition for Western North Carolina," to be given at Asheville, on the 5th of November next.

The telegraphic accounts of the sufferings at Shreveport and Memphis are sufficiently appalling, without editorial comment. There are thousands ready to give in North Carolina, if proper steps were taken to secure their contributions. Where are our Young Men's Christian Associations?

TOM EVANS, the Richmond Enquirer correspondent, publishes in the last Mifflon Chronicle, an account of his recent interview with President GRANT. EVANS says "the President is a man, every inch." GRANT was named on MOSBY and the third term. In this respect, EVANS has not been more successful than the Herald's correspondents.

We are glad to learn that the Rev. Mr. MANGUM, of the Methodist church of this city, will take up a contribution to-day in aid of the Oxford Orphan Asylum. The Asylum is now greatly in need of funds.

Mr. MANGUM collected over fifty dollars from his congregation last Sabbath, for the benefit of the Shreveport sufferers.

We need more MANGUMS in North Carolina.

The Wilmington Journal, which pays much attention to financial matters, and whose opinion is valuable, says that if the resumption of specie payments means a reduction of the amount of circulating medium, then it is opposed to it for the present.

Does the Journal favor an inflated currency? If so, it agrees with the position of our Fayetteville correspondent, who holds that "a depreciated currency is the currency for the poor man."

THE Hillsboro Recorder is pleased with the subject of the lecture prepared by Hon. A. M. WADDELL, namely, Heitramannland, or the White Man's Land. The Recorder referring to the matter says:

"Col. Waddell amused his leisure hours in elaborating certain fanciful theories respecting the early settlement of the State, and in the course of his researches found so much to confirm his ideas, that in his opinion theory has become fact.

With a brilliancy of genius surpassed by no one in the State, he will throw a charm around his lectures which will fascinate, if it does not convince. It will be a refreshing departure from the current and wearisome topics of the day.

The idea to be developed is that five hundred years before Columbus was born, a colony of Irish settled North Carolina, and the writer thinks that in the history of the race of Indians which has now disappeared from among us there were found and recorded sufficiently strong evidence of the pre-existence of a European race to establish his theories."

This is a theme which will not only interest North Carolinians, but all lovers of historical truth in this and other countries.

Col. WADDELL would not undertake to establish his position, if he did not have a strong array of facts and arguments to back his assertions, and his lecture will doubtless give historians something to think about and discuss, whether he succeeds in convincing them or not.

Should the Legislature Extend Aid to the Orphan Asylum?

We are pleased to see that the views advanced on this subject by the Hillsboro Recorder, have awakened a discussion among our State exchanges and that the general sentiment is in favor of the proposition.

The Orphan Asylum is a noble charity, and is dependent solely upon voluntary contributions for support. There are about one hundred destitute and helpless children now enjoying the privileges and blessings of a comfortable home, under the shelter and guardianship of that eleemosynary institution. The contributions thus far obtained have carried on the benevolent work in a very gratifying manner, but the increase of contributions has not been altogether in proportion to the increase in the number of inmates.

State aid is essential, because without a certain and permanent fund there is no guaranty that the Oxford Asylum will sustain itself on a firm basis. Voluntary donations are of course very uncertain, and can not, for that reason be exclusively depended on. A financial crash, tightness in the money market, public indifference, and numberless other causes may diminish the receipts from this source to such an extent as to close the doors of any charity that has to rely solely upon the aid and assistance of the public at large.

North Carolina has been distinguished for many years for the fostering care and protection which her Legislatures in the past have extended to the poor and unfortunate within her borders. The elegant benevolent edifices erected in this city years ago by appropriations from the State Treasury are monuments to the philanthropy and patriotism of our Legislators of a former age. The Insane Asylum and the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb and the Blind will perpetuate the memories not only of the founders and builders, but of the North Carolina statesmen whose voices were raised in eloquent appeals in advocacy of these humane institutions.

Gov. MOREHEAD, in his last official communication to the Legislature as Governor of the State, commended to that body, in an especial manner the poor and friendless, and conjured the members, "by their duties as wise Legislators, by all the feelings of humanity and of philanthropy, by the precepts of our holy religion, to resolve never to abandon the seats they occupied, nor to behold their own beloved offspring, until they had done their duty towards these afflicted children of Providence, by the adoption of some measure for the improvement and amelioration of their condition."

Hon. JOHN A. GILMER, in advocacy of a great public charity over a quarter of a century ago, in the Senate of North Carolina, exclaimed: "Talk of a little tax, a paltry sum of money, which all can pay and few will miss, in connection with a great cause of humanity! Talk about taxation! Among the people of North Carolina will be found more liberality, more philanthropy, than Senators seem to be aware of. Indeed, the honest statesman who reposes a generous confidence in the liberality and justice of the people, will ever be sustained, while those time-servers, who measure the public heart by their own narrow and selfish notions, will, in the end, meet with merited rebuke."

And Hon. KENNETH RAYNER, in the same hall, on the same occasion, said:

"Let us lay a foundation of an institution to which our posterity can point with pride, whenever they mention our names. Let us rear a structure, beneath whose dome heaven-born charity shall set up her altar, and benevolence erect her shrine—within whose walls the unfortunate of posterity shall find a refuge and a home, when we shall be no more."

Such were the sentiments that animated our public men when the voice of humanity urged them to do their duty as philanthropists.

If the Legislature of North Carolina, which is to assemble in November next, cannot be moved by appeals such as these to make some appropriation for the support of the great charity at Oxford, we will point them to the present Constitution of the State, which enjoins upon them the duty of devising some means for the care and instruction of destitute orphans.

Article ninth and section eighth of that instrument is as follows:

"There shall also, as soon as practicable, be measures devised by the State for the establishment of one or more Orphan Houses, where destitute orphans may be cared for, educated and taught some business or trade."

The Constitution went into effect in July, 1868. More than five years have passed and although there are annual meetings of the Legislature, not a single step has yet been taken to establish Orphan Houses for the care and education of destitute orphans.

Now, the Grand Lodge of Masons has relieved the Legislature of the heavy expense of building "one or more Orphan Houses," which the Constitution demands. A magnificent structure, costing over thirty thousand dollars, with ample grounds, has been donated to the State for this identical purpose. All that is now required of the Legislature is to make some provision for the care and education of the destitute orphans, who have been placed at the Asylum without any charge or expense to the State. That this provision will be made, we do not for a moment doubt.

FRANKLIN STEAM WASHER

PATENTED JUNE 24, 1873.

BARROW & PLEASANTS

LOUISBURG, N. C.

Satisfaction Guaranteed in Every Instance.

OTHER MACHINES HAVE THEIR PECULIAR MERITS—THIS HAS NO DEFECT.

The Washing of a Family of Ordinary Size Easily Accomplished before Breakfast!

Have Never Known One That Failed to Give Satisfaction!

No other Machine can be sold after the "FRANKLIN" has been Tried.

From One to Two Thousand Dollars a Year Guaranteed to Working Men!

Every County Sold in Which it has been Introduced.

WE CHALLENGE THE WORLD TO COMPETE WITH IT!!!

The inventor of the "FRANKLIN STEAM WASHER" was owner of the right to manufacture the "Improved" woman's Friend in certain territory. While manufacturing these machines, and waiting patiently for their action and the manner in which they operated, and the results, he discovered certain prominent defects, the result of ten months in the study of the subject of finding remedies for those defects. He has succeeded in the result of his investigation and study, he offers to the public the "FRANKLIN STEAM WASHER" which is by far the best Washing Machine ever patented. We claim as an evidence of its merit that "LETTERS PATENT" were granted over all others.

It will wash anything from a Lace Collar to a Bed Blanket. It will cleanse the clothing with less trouble and more thoroughly than can possibly be done by hand labor, or the use of the rubbing board. With one-fourth of the labor four times as much can be done in the same length of time as can be done by hand. We could publish columns of certificates of its worth from those who have used it, but for the present we prefer the WASHER to speak for itself. We give a few below:

LOUISBURG, September 27th, 1873.
GENTLEMEN:—Before purchasing your Steam Washer, I paid four dollars per month for my family washing; now without any additional help, I have the washing done at home and pay fifty cents a week to have the ironing done. In this way I save $2 per month, and my clothes are much whiter, and will last much longer than when washed by rubbing of the use of a board. It is all that you recommended it to be.
Very respectfully,
Mrs. C. M. COCKE.

LOUISBURG, September 10th, 1873.
GENTLEMEN:—I am using your Steam Washer, and it proves a success and I take pleasure in recommending it to the public, and testify to its being all that you recommended it to be. Very respectfully,
Mrs. P. E. HAWK.

LOUISBURG, September 8th, 1873.
GENTLEMEN:—I have been using your Franklin Steam Washer for some time and can safely say it is far the best I ever saw. I cannot do without it. Mrs. A. W. WILSON.
